ABOUT THE ISSUE

The cover of this issue, created by Art Director Tom Williams, tells the whole story of the content you are about to enjoy—and that we hope you'll share with others. Our authors will escort you through the essentials of the Christian faith: sin, the holiness of God, salvation, and the unfathomable depths of His loving grace. You'll learn why being a church-going Gentile does not a Christian make. Steve Herzig explains why the Jewish concept of atonement has changed. And Elwood McQuaid's ever-insightful analysis of the world scene reveals why political niceties don't cut it when you're dealing with Islam. Finally, to encourage your heart, we give you the inspiring story of Sir John Newton, whose hymn "Amazing Grace" has blessed millions. Enjoy! (Digital composition, Thomas E. Williams)

IN THIS ISSUE

'People Just Want Nice.' Oh, Really?

by Elwood McQuaid10
When will we learn that some people don't care about "nice" and that annihilating Israel is merely the warm-up to something far more nefarious?

God's Glorious Grace

by David M. Levy14
God's grace comes to us in many forms. Each has a special purpose, and each provides a particular blessing.

So Near and Yet So Far

by Marshall Wicks18
Can a person grow up in a Christian home, hear the gospel every week, and still not be a Christian? Absolutely, as Marshall's fascinating story will reveal.

Saved by Amazing Grace: The Story of John Newton

by Bruce Scott24
Most people know him as the godly writer of "Amazing Grace." But Newton's life was far from godly before the Lord saved him and changed him forever.

Road to Righteousness

by Richard D. Emmons28
Why can't good deeds and the Law get you to heaven? If you think you don't need Jesus, this article is especially for you.
